

THE WESTIN HERITAGE AFTERNOON TEA

The history of afternoon tea is suggested to have originated during the early nineteenth century with Anna, 7th Duchess of Bedford, feeling peckish in the afternoon while waiting for dinner late in the evening. The Duchess requested tea and a light snack to be delivered to her boudoir every afternoon but once her secret was discovered this practice was offered by many influential hostesses to entertain their special guests.

The Westin Sydney is proud to offer you Westin's Heritage and Mad Hatter Afternoon Teas; a long-established tradition that has been reengineered to complement our contemporary setting.
